

The FCC should promote diversity in the media. It should not promote the creation of a media monopolized by a few giant corporations. Therefore, the FCC should set firm limits on broadcast ownership.